HIGH SCHOOL ENTRANCE

THE 1922 HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENT COUNCIL, NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

---

There is one very important member of our school who has not been mentioned with the school board, the faculty or the students. But we all feel that our school would be incomplete without his presence. This person is Mr. Emory Van Valkenburgh, one of the best (we think, the best) school engineers in the country. For twelve years he has kept our school looking so well we cannot help but be proud of it, and his work.

IDA BARLEY

Through long years of kindness
And years of helpfulness, too;
With faith in the old classes
And patience with the new.
If you look back you'll find
To our interests she'll look,
So to Miss Ida Barley
We dedicate this book

FOREWORD

In preparing the 1922 copy of the Palladium the editors have aimed to comprise a book more worthy of your attention than the previous edition. The controlling principle in the development and sequence of this Annual has been to create in every student and in every school patron a much stronger school spirit. We trust that our efforts will merit your appreciation of this book for after all, "Religion, Morality, and Knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of Education shall forever be encouraged."

BOARD OF EDUCATION

To the Board of Education—For your interest in the promotion of education, your foresight in providing and maintaining one of the finest high schools of the state, we respectfully dedicate this page.

A. J. HELFRICH,
M. S. N. C.
U. of M.
Superintendent

The best sort of a man and a sport is he.
The head of our school and of chemistry,
And everyone likes him because he's so fair
To Seniors—to Juniors—to everyone, everywhere.
We wish him the best of success that can be.
For he is a true friend to you and to me.

She presides o'er the assembly room,
She's our counsellor when troubles
loom.
She's our friend through thick and thin,
Because, you know, she is our prin.
If you wish us luck, you may wish that we Might always have friends as good as is she.

TO THE FACULTY

N—is for Northville,
The best school of all;
O—is for order
We have in the hall.
R—is for R. Foster,
An instructor so bright;
T—is for Thompson
Who keeps us in sight.
H—is for Helfrich,
Our Professor, you know;
V—is for valor
He surely does show.
I—is for Irish,
Oh can't you guess, who?
L—means dear Larkins
Who keeps watch of us, too.
L—also means learning
Acquired in school.
E—means each one of those
Teachers who rule.
Now still there are some
Whom I haven't named,
But I haven't forgotten them,
All of the same.
So here's to Yerkes and Larson,
A very fine pair;
And here's to dear Daniel
Who's always right there (?)
Miss Mulford and Barley
I haven't forgotten,
And Mrs. J. Holcombe
Is sure far from rotten.
I guess I have named all
Our teachers so dear,
So let's give them a toast
For we're darn glad they're here.

E. Van Valkenburgh.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The regular election of the members of the Student Council was held the second Friday in the school year. The following were elected: President—Gordon Moffit; Business Manager—Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh; Boys' Athletic Manager—Loyle German; Girls' Athletic Manager—Margaret Murdock; Boys' Commissioner of Buildings and Grounds—Raymond Watts; and Girls' Commissioner of Buildings and Grounds—Geraldine Young; Mr. Helfrich acting as advisor.

During the school year various activities have been carried out by this organization. The Hallowe'en Masque and New Year's Ball were given. Visiting Basketball Teams were given a lunch which showed good sportsmanship among the various schools. Arm Bands, to be worn at games away from home were purchased and sold to the students at a minimum price. Upon the resignation of President Moffitt the necessity of electing a new president was met by drawing up an amendment which provided that in case of vacancy in the council the office could be filled by appointment by the acting president, from the school or from the remaining members of that body. Loyle German taking the presidency and Frank Freydl, Boys' Athletic Manager.

This organization also acts as a financial department for all athletics, paying for equipment and all other expense. So far this year $1,600.00 has been handled by this body.

The council acts as a court to which all who have committed a misdemeanor are summoned. Punishable crimes are trespassing on the lawn, marking on the walls or defacing the building and property in any other way. Trial is held and sentence is passed on each one according to the severity of the crime.

This brief summary will show you the meaning of the Student Council and which is not only for the betterment of the school but furnishes those engaged in this work with good practical experience.

SENIORS

SENIOR HISTORY

In September of the fall of 1918 a timid group of Boys and Girls mounted the steps of the Northville High School to enroll as Freshmen. Although timid and self-conscious, we tried to put on an air of calm indifference, but 'twas of no avail. We were what they called "green." We were the basis of many a good joke for the upper classmen, but this did us no harm. The Juniors and Seniors hardly gave us time to accustom ourselves to our new surroundings before they gave us a reception, which proved to be a very enjoyable affair. This was followed soon after by the initiation which proved to be—not quite as enjoyable. And so our first year of High School life, mingled with both work and pleasure, passed quickly by and vacation came—something which was welcome by all.

September, 1919—again we came to enroll. This time as Sophomores. We no longer were the basis of jokes but the jokers. It was our turn to look condescendingly upon the poor little Freshmen. But then we made up for that by giving them a reception which we hope they enjoyed. They escaped that year, however, that which most every Freshmen dreads—initiation. After the reception we settled down to the every-day routine of school life. Under the guidance of Miss Seaton and an able staff of officers our Sophomore year passed by almost as quickly as did our Freshmen year and vacation time was with us once more.

As jolly Juniors we came to school in September of '20. A number of our classmates took up athletics and debating and won distinction during the year. The chief event of our Junior year was the J-Hop. It was a great success and proved to be a very enjoyable affair. During the year we purchased class rings which will always remind us of the happy days spent in N. H. S. This year, as the first two, passed and the following fall we were regarded as Seniors.

The year of '21 and '22 found the class, as a whole, more studious than it had been the previous years because the members of it realized that this year meant the end of the beginning. We were really surprised that we were fourth year students, it seems so short a time since we were freshmen.

Again, different members of the class made excellent records both in athletics and debate. The Senior year proved to be not only a busy one but also a very pleasant one. Some of our classmates of previous years have moved away, some have quit school, one has even ventured into matrimony, and some tried camouflaging, failed, and were forced to drop out of the ranks. Even so our class numbers twenty-nine—the largest ever graduated from Northville High School and, we hope, one of the best if not the best.

This is the history of the class of '22. It is not remarkable, neither is it insignificant. And as for its future—"Wait, watch and beware."

Elizabeth Henry—'22.

SENIOR VERSES

The Seniors are a jolly class
As you already know.
We're dignified at times, of course,
But then, we aren't so slow.
The members number twenty-nine,
The largest ever yet,
To graduate from N. H. S.
(And the best, we think, you bet.)
M. Murdock is our president,
In athletics lies her fame.
B. Henry, our vice-president,
Is loved by—What's his name?
F. Freydl's the handsomest
Of any in the class.
E. Van Valkenburgh, of course, you know
Is the brightest lass.
Ina Wolfram, second comes
In the realm of wisdom;
And E. Freydl, when teacher calls,
You would think that boy dumb.
Maurine is quite a child,
But we know that she's in love.
Walter Staman trusts to luck
That help will come from above.
Doris Stark to Elbert talks
At any time of day.
Arthur Schnutie never seems
To have much time for play.
Leona is, you know, a shark
In her dear bookkeeping class.
Ford Atchison seems capable
Of conservation of the mass.
Mildred is our class musician,
She can play most any tune.
If you ask "Dutch" what he likes best,
He'll say, "I like to spoon."
Armeta likes to dance and sing,
Yes, she likes a good time.
George Atkinson, you may have heard,
Is a lover most sublime.
Betty Henry reads and writes
Long notes almost all day.
Seth Benton is our blondest boy
That is, so I've heard say.
Nellie Evert never seems
To violate the rules.
And Paul Lovewell is so bright
As to make us feel like fools.
Olive is our English lass,
Her favorite "idear."
Jim Fry is always happy
When Leona, dear, is near.
Elbert is our witty boy,
He keeps the school in laughter.
And Thomas Benton is so still,
We wonder what he's after.
Mahlon is the shortest, but
His dignity's O. K.
And Gordie Moffitt always makes
His violin obey.
Hugh Papineau, the soldier boy,
Is, seemingly, most idle.
And George Kahrl, when Irene smiles,
Does not look suicidal.
Della Brooks—a poet
And a player of jazz songs,
This completes the story
Of our class, so now—"So long."
D. Brooks—'22.

Your Junior year now draws to a close,
 You'll all be Seniors soon,
 For the present Senior class, you know,
 Will leave to give you room.
 We've lots of things to say to you
 And some advice to give.
 "But first of all, we express this hope,
 Long may our high school live!"
 Now my space is almost gone,
 And I've not given a mora',
 So this, you see, will have to be
 Our advice will just be oral.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

All classes must at some time or other enter upon the second step of their education—the High School. We were admitted to the land of learning in the fall of 1919 and although it was not generally expressed, we thoroughly realized that we were “on probation.” Now we feel that we have advanced far beyond that period for every one has proven himself “true blue.” The constant siege of study has somewhat thinned our ranks. Last year’s enrollment was 36 while this year we can count only 27.

As is customary, we organized our class early in the school year and elected the following: President, Raymond Watts; Vice-President, Geraldine Young; Secretary, V. Parmenter, and Treasurer, R. Connor.

We claim a goodly share in the athletic activities of our school for we furnished four men for the football team, all of whom received letters. All, except Kestell, being recruits. In Basketball, Buckley played an exceptionally good game at guard and Hammond as forward completely dazzled his opponents with his speed and left arm.

On the Girls’ Basketball Team we did our share for we furnished half of the regular players. Irene Thompson at center—very few girls got the jump on her. Vivian Parmenter, at running center, was among the fastest in this department. Geraldine Young at guard completely bewildered the opposing forwards.

In Baseball we have Hammond, Kestell, Buckley and Young.

Starting firm in the ninth grade and gathering speed and accuracy, as we go we will surely finish far above the average class in June '23.

Raymond Watts—'23

JOE WATTS
Born July 27, 1902—Died April 3, 1922

Peace, Peace! He is not dead, he doth not sleep!
He hath awakened from the dream of life.
'Tis we, who lost in stormy visions, keep
With phantoms on unprofitable strife.
He hath out soared the shadows of our night.
Envy and calumny and hate and pain,
And all unrest which men miscall delight,
Can touch him not and torture not again.
From the contagion of the world's slow stain
He is secure and now can never mourn,
A heart grown cold, a head grown gray in vain.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

The Sophomore class of the Northville High School of 1921-22 was organized with Miss Foster as patroness. The following officers were elected: President, Helen VanAtta; Vice-President, Vance McKahn; Secretary, and Treasurer, Jean Wilson.

The class at present is composed of thirty students, two having left during the school year. Of this number there are ten non-residents.

Some very pleasant holidays were enjoyed. Thanksgiving and the day after, two weeks at Christmas and one week of spring vacation during the month of March.

In athletics the Sophomore class have taken an active part. In the football squad, Joe Watts and William Markham deserve a word of praise as do others who made the football team what it was. Unsuccessful though the season was we shall not soon forget the efforts they put forth.

On the basketball team Helen VanAtta made an excellent captain and proved her ability as a good all round player. Also Hazel Sowles is worthy of mention. In playing the class games the Sophomore girls won the championship and received the banner.

Several of our Sophomore boys have tried out and won successful places on the baseball team.

Cleon Dey, one of the most popular members of our class entered into the debating field and carried off some of the highest honors of the debating team. Who said the Sophomore's couldn't argue?

We were greatly saddened by the death of one of our members, Joe Watts, on April 3, 1922. Our deepest sympathies are extended to the bereaved family. Also we regretted to learn that Clements Huff through continued absence from school, due to illness, was obliged to leave for the present. We will heartily welcome him back the coming year.

I wish to mention one or two humorous incidents:

Hazel Sowles' original methods of transporting love letters to innocent young freshies is the latest out.

Mr. Larson found upon keeping some young ladies after school that his vocabulary was limited to the word "Cunningham."

The Sophomore class of 1922 have enjoyed a very pleasant year. Many lasting friendships have been made, and a spirit of loyalty has prevailed among the students.

Here's a toast to the Freshies—may they ever live,
 And we confess to their studies, a part of their time they give.
 At school on time in the morning—they're very seldom late,
 Latin and Algebra seem to be the only things they hate.
 Some of them are green folks—and some are not so bad,
 And with they childish actions, they drive their teachers mad.
 But sometimes, little Freshies—sometimes your work you do,
 But we'll tell you this, dear Freshies, we can't get along without you.

D. Brooks.

FRESHMEN HISTORY

"We came, we saw, we conquered," we, the class of '25, echo the words of Caesar, when we review the experiences and achievements of the past year.

Forty-three strong we came in the fall of '21 into the assembly-room of N. H. S. with a feeling of almost awe toward the upper classmen as we saw their attention directed toward us in not too friendly criticism. We longed at first to retreat but soon our assurance returned and we looked forward to conquest among those critical and learned upper classmen, and we feel that success has been ours as Freshmen.

The class was immediately organized under the supervision of Miss Yerkes, and the following were chosen as officers: Virginia Smith, President; Harry German, Vice-President, and Reve Schrader, Secretary-Treasurer.

In all forms of athletics we have done our best and, looking back at the teams now, it is doubtful if they would have been so successful if it had not been for these same Freshmen.

Among those who took part in these contests were: Milton Hall, Edward Riley, Harry German, Clifford LeFever, Ward Masters, Max Pokorney, Virginia Smith, Ida Rose Cavell and Barbara Blackburn.

One member of our class we are especially proud of—Catherine Harlan, who has the ability to do Latin 1, even to Miss Foster's satisfaction.

On the whole, we have a wonderful class—by that I mean the students are very patient with the teachers' corrections and the girls are especially noted for the strict attention they pay—to Kalman Harey in Ancient History class.

In our class statistics we boast of having the tallest—Paul Sutton—and the shortest—Milton Hall—pupils of anyone in High School.

We have especially revealed our extraordinary knowledge in recitations as when Miss Yerkes asked Donald Kerr, why the early Egyptians studied the stars, and he replied: "So they could tell when the Nile River overflowed." We are also sure that Miss Yerkes has learned many valuable bits of information after conducting an oral quiz in History class; while we are sure Rosie Visnyak has learned many things from Mr. Larson's various answers on any subject.

Although we are only Freshmen, we feel sure that when we reach the year of '25 we will be the greatest and best class that ever graduated from the N. H. S.

Ida Rose Cavell.

If winning is the only worth while compensation for an athletic contest, then our 1921 football season might be considered a failure. But we do not believe this to be the case. Although the boys lost every one of the six games played, their training in sportsmanship and teamwork was well worth all of their efforts.

It is an easy matter to be a good winner, but it is an art to take defeat without accusing your opponents of unfairness or twitting the officials of favoritism or shifting the blame to someone other than yourself, and these are some of the lessons that can be learned only through defeat.

Whether you win or lose in football you must use teamwork. Every man has a part to take in every play and if he fails to do his part both he and his teammates are taught the result of poor co-operation. In football as in no other sport a man is taught to subordinate his interests to the interests of the group. If a man makes a touchdown, it is only through the co-operation of his teammates that it has been possible. These experiences in football are of a far greater value to a man in later life than a pennant on the wall in a school-room, although it is a fine thing to have if earned honestly.

TEAM

Loyal German, Captain	Allen Buckley
Gordon Moffitt	Edgar Freydl
Milton Hall	Frank Freydl
Glen Hammond

Loyle German, "Dutch," as captain of the team and running guard, was an excellent leader. He undoubtedly saved many a disaster to the team's record by calling the team together at a critical point in the game to lay plans for their next attack.

Gordie Moffitt, "Gord," as forward, showed admirable ability in eluding his opponents by side-stepping, pivoting or dribbling which accelerated his playing ability and kept his personal fouls at a minimum. He had a good eye for baskets and caged a high per cent. of his attempts.

Edgar Freydl, "Egg," as forward, always kept his guard guessing and frequently slipped away for a basket. One of his favorite and also sure shots was from the corner. He had a good eye for long shots and could guard well when necessary.

Milton Hall, "Red," as center, was hard to beat at jumping. In fact, he seldom found good opposition. As a floor man he was good. His favorite stunt was getting the ball off the backboard and caging it.

Allen Buckley, "Buck," as standing guard, is largely responsible for the small scores of many of the opposing teams. While a standing guard cannot score for his team, he can do a great deal to keep their opponents' score below that of his team and be just as important a factor as the scoring forwards.

Frank Freydl, "Bruno," played both forward and guard and in either position he showed that fight and determination that wins. He gave a fine exhibition of this spirit in the Milan game which will be remembered as one of the hardest contests of the '21-'22 season.

Glen Hammond, "Lefty," as reserve forward, was a very active man on the floor and a good shot at baskets. Within ten seconds of the time he was substitute in the Farmington game he had tallied a field goal.

D. M. Winn.

In the 1921 tournament at Ypsilanti the Northville boys lost to Britton by a 19 to 13 score, which robbed them of their last chance to get first or second cup. After that tourney the boys set as their goal for 1922 nothing less than a cup. With this as a goal our team entered the contest. After the draw Thursday night, the N. H. S. and the Milan H. S. teams found themselves arrayed for battle. The contest was a furious one.

At the end of the first half the score was tied and after three quarters of play the score stood 8 to 7 Milan. In the final period the M. H. S. boys tallied four field goals and one point from the foul line, making the final score 17 to 7.

This defeat placed Northville in the consolation series. After defeating Belleville 32 to 8 and Saline 22 to 8 on Friday, the boys went home to rest and lay plans and prepare for their last day's conquest. They began Saturday by defeating Mt Morris by a 18 to 10 score. By this time there were but two teams left in this series, Northville and their rival of the preceeding year, Britton.

At 7:30 they found themselves engaged in a contest similar to the one of the preceeding year, but one which was to end differently. With the trophy in sight, both teams battled with all their might. For one half the race was even, then Northville forged ahead never to be overtaken. The final score was 36 to 26. Northville High School had won the Cup.

TEAM

Helen Van Atta	Ida Rose Cavell
Virginia Smith	Geraldine Younge
Irene Thompson	Hazel Sowles
Vivian Parmenter	Ruth Atchison
Margaret Murdock	Barbara Blackburn

N. H. S. Girls' Basket Ball season opened in November. The Sophomores won the banner in the inter-class games. With the exception of Margaret Murdock, the six girls selected were new players. Helen Van Atta, Captain of the team, with her co-oworker, Virginia Smith, tossed baskets with apparent ease.

Margaret Murdock made a snappy little guard and she and Ida Rose Cavell held down the opposers' score to good effect. An opponent found it difficult to get around Geraldine Young.

Irene Thompson at center, and Vivian Parmenter as side center, easily passed the ball to the forward.

The team was well fortified with substitutes. Hazel Sowles, Ruth Atchison and Barbara Blackburn were ever ready to help.

The coach, Miss Ida Barley, with her long service as one of Northville's capable teachers, never overlooked a chance to bring fame and glory to Northville High School. The hours spent with the team in practice enabled them to successfully carry out their many plays; and the showing made is a comfort to her as well as a credit as a coach.

In 1921 Northville finished in second place having lost to Farmington and Dearborn on their diamonds. However, the local nine defeated both of these teams on the Northville field.

With the season just nicely started, the prospects for 1922 look good. The veteran battery, L. German and E. Freydl, look equal to any task they may be asked to perform. F. Freydl, G. Moffitt, G. Hammond and L. Kestell are again on the diamond and are showing good form. As a reserve battery, H. German and C. Dey have been doing some artistic work. During six of the seven innings played at Redford no man reached first base. In the other inning one hit and one run were scored, the run being the result of an error on the part of a fielder. There are also a number of promising recruits including E. Riley, C. Hall, C. LeFevere, M. Young, W. Markham and R. Wood.

F. Freydl, E. Freydl, L. German, H. German, E. Riley and G. Hammond are batting above 300.

Home runs: Hammond, German; Three Base Hits: F. Freydl, H. German, C. Dey; Two Base Hits: H. German.

DEBATE

In December, 1921, the Northville High School Debate Team was organized. Four members were chosen to represent this town. Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh, Captain; Cleon Dey, Della Brooks and Max Pokorney.

The question for debate was: "Resolved that the principle of the closed shop in American industry should receive the support of public opinion." In the first debate, which was with Plymouth, Northville took the negative side of the question. Our team was defeated by a 2 to 1 decision.

The next debate, January 14, was with Farmington. N. H. S. was the winner by a 3 to 0 decision. This was an especially fine debate as Northville had the harder side of the subject, the affirmative.

The third debate was with Plymouth. The Northville team again were "affirmative," but again we suffered defeat for the decision was in favor of Plymouth.

The next debate was to have been with Farmington, but the opposing team forfeited the debate to Northville, which gave us an additional four points.

The fifth and last debate was with Redford. Both teams gave forceful arguments. Miss Van Valkenburgh, on our team, was especially good, but the Northville team was handicapped from the beginning for we again had the affirmative of the question and only two of the judges were able to be present. Redford team won by a unanimous decision.

Two of the members of the team will be in school again next year and as they are experienced in debating, we are sure that Northville will be more successful next year than it has ever been before.

ORATORY

One of the prominent members of our High School was entered in the Oratorical Contest held at Plymouth, April 6, 1922.

The schools represented were: Howell, Ann Arbor, Wyandotte, Northville, Plymouth and Chelsea. Howell won first place by a margin of one point and our representative, Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh, won second not far behind.

Della Brooks.

MUSIC

MUSIC

There's a class in High School, as you know,
To which with pleasure we do go.
Miss Mulford meets us at the door
And says, "Please, don't talk any more.
I'll call the roll, then once again
We'll sing number one hundred and ten.
Now, Mildred, will you play for us?"
And Mildred plays without a fuss.
One day Miss Mill was absent then,
We had no one to play for—when
Miss Mulford asked someone to play;
She said: "Oh no, another day."
When she'd asked several in their turn,
She said: "The class will now adjourn."
The boys on Tuesday warble and sing,
The girls on Thursday do the same thing;
On Friday the boys and the girls together
At just the right time, but no matter what weather.
When we get there, teacher says: "All aboard."
The first thing we sing will be called, "The Lost Chord."
And it surely is lost when we start to sing,
When up to high "C" low pitched voices do ring;
And though we work hard (that is in a measure),
Our Music Class to us is surely a pleasure.
As we all like Miss Mulford, her success is assured
And we're glad that our antics Miss M. has endured.
And indeed, of the nicest of our H. S. days
Have been in Music Class where pleasure plays.

Della Brooks.

SOCIETY

SOCIETY SEASON

HALLOWE'EN MASQUE

On the evening of October 28, 1921, the Gymnasium was very artistically dressed in streamers of Orange and Black for the Hallowe'en Party. In the corner and on the stairway were many shocks of corn which added greatly to the Hallowe'en spookyness.

About 8 o'clock strangely dressed people began to come in from the street and after paying the door-keeper, they hastened in to enjoy the music which was furnished by Bergin's Orchestra of Ypsilanti.

There was a great variety of guests present, their costumes ranging from the figureless ghost to the high-class hallet-dancer.

As is the custom at Hallowe'en parties, serpentines and confetti which was liberally distributed among the dancers, added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

Promptly at twelve the guests departed with a feeling that all had enjoyed a wonderful evening of fun.

THE NEW YEAR'S DANCE

On the last evening of the Old Year of 1921, a party was given in the High School Gymnasium by the members of the High School Council.

The Gymnasium was beautifully decorated in green and white crepe ribbon with pine branches as a border. Cleverly hidden in the branches were bits of mistletoe and a large bunch of it hung in the center of the Gymnasium.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Larkins and Mr. and Mrs. A. Zimmer acted as chaperons.

Gordon's Orchestra from Detroit furnished the music, and we will leave it to the opinions of those who heard it to tell how much it was enjoyed.

At twelve o'clock the Orchestra played "Home, Sweet Home," and thus the last party of the year of 1921 ended.

THE SENIORS HAVE A CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Seniors held a Christmas party in the High School Gymnasium on December 21, 1921, the evening of the day school closed for Christmas vacation.

The crowd was of goodly size, for each senior had invited one guest. All reported a good time.

A LITERATURE TRIP ACCOMPANIED BY SHAKESPEARE

The English Literature Class and the Public Speaking Class had the privilege on December 2, 1921 of hearing Mr. George Kupper of the faculty of the University of Michigan, on the life of Shakespeare.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

The High School as guests of the Woman's Club enjoyed Professor Hathaway's impersonation of Hamlet on the afternoon of December 9, 1921.

J-HOP

A very pleasant event was enjoyed by a most happy crowd on the evening of May 5, when the class of 1923 gave their annual J-Hop in the High School Gymnasium. The music, by Finzel's five-piece orchestra, was exceptionally good—and this together with the splendid decorations of red and white brought forth many pleasing comments from those present.

HIGH SCHOOL CARNIVAL

One of the most successful and the most entertaining events of the year 1922 was the High School Carnival given in the Gymnasium on the evening of May 19, 1922.

SENIOR PROM

On May 26, the Class of '22 will give their Annual Prom. Music will be furnished by Finzel's Five-piece Orchestra and everyone is anticipating a good time.

Miss Yerkes: "What are the duties of the U. S. Marshalls?"

Arthur: "Same as the Sheriffs."

James: "What are the Sheriffs'?"

Lyle: "Sweeping streets and keeping water faucets clean."

---

Mr. John Cody (speaking before Assembly): "I was born in Belleville at the time when Mr. Helfrich was Superintendent."

(How old is Mr. Helfrich?)

---

Miss Thompson: "Why do they call some kind of iron 'pig iron'?"

Lyle Kestell: "Because it takes so many grunts to carry it."

---

Mr. Larson: "Mr. Benton, who do you think you are?"

Seth: "Nothin'."

---

Elbert (looking at armband): "What does N. H. S. stand for?"

Allen (thinking of Farmington football game): "No High Score."

---

Miss A. Yerkes: "Where do you stand when you are ready to make a speech?"

Paul: "On my feet."

---

Gordie: "It was way back in the days of 'auld lang syne.' You remember, don't you, Miss Yerkes?"

---

Miss Thompson: "Cleon, please take your seat."

Cleon: "All right, but where'll I take it?"

---

Miss Foster: "Why did the fallen angels in 'Paradise Lost' assemble in Pandemonium?"

Gordie: "To raise the devil."

Miss Yerkes: "What are the different attitudes taken by Satan and Moloch in regard to hell?"

Margaret: "Oh, Satan thought it was better to rule in hell than serve in heaven."

Miss Yerkes: "Yes, now what did Moloch think?"

Margaret: "Oh, he thought hell was a terrible place."

---

Mrs. Larkins: "What did the Irish bring over to America?"

Lyle: "Good policemen."

They chatter and talk every hour,
He likes her, and she him.
The teachers above them glower
Who is it? Leona and Jim!

---

The Seniors sat back in the corner,
Exactly like little Jack Horner.
They whispered and talked
Till their plans teacher balked.
Now woe is unto the informer.
Moral: Don't whisper.

---

Mr. Helfrich: "What is watered stock?"

Lyle: "Ducks."

---

He failed in English, flunked in Chem,
They softly heard him hiss.
I'd like to find the man who said
That ignorance is bliss.

---

A School Annual is a great invention,
The staff gets all the fame,
The printer all the money,
And the editor all the blame.

---

Miss Barley: "Now, are you people going to keep quiet or not?"

Elbert: "Let's take a vote and find out."

If a body see a body,
Flunking in a quiz.
If a body help a body,
Is it teacher's biz?

SHAKESPEARE

Seniors: "All's Well That Ends Well."
Juniors: "As You Like It."
Sophomores: "Much Ado About Nothing."
Freshmen: "A Comedy Of Errors."

---

You can always tell a Freshman
By his gasping, vacant stare;
And his mouth a-hanging open,
Letting in the High School air.

---

A green little Freshie,
In a green little way,
Wore her little green hairribbon
On Saint Patrick's Day.

---

What General Sherman said of war
May perhaps have been a slam,
But that's exactly what we think
Of Larson's public speaking exam.

---

Our Basketball teams are a noble bunch,
They are very sedate and quiet,
But to let them go without chaperones,
Do you think they'd ever try it?

---

Mr. Winn: "What is an example of a machine of this type?"
Loyle: "A wheelbarrow."
Mr. Winn: "Alright. Now, Raymond, you give an example."
Raymond: "Another wheelbarrow."

---

Donald Merritt: "Who do you play Basketball with tonight?"
Margaret: "The Alumni."
Donald: "How far away are they?"

Mrs. Holcombe: "What organizations were founded about this time?"

Lyle: "One trying to change the ladies' bloomers."

LIFE'S GREATEST ACHIEVEMENTS

"Passing a note without letting Foster get it."

"Getting a better mark than Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh."

"Staying in the library and not getting kicked out for fifteen minutes."

"Beating Farmington."

Signed "Dutch."

---

ARITHMETIC

He was teaching her arithmetic and
Said it was his mission.
He kissed her once, he kissed her twice
And said it was an addition.
But as he added smack to smack
In silent satisfaction,
Timidly she gave one back and
Said: "Now, that's subtraction."
He kissed her and she kissed him
And without an explanation,
And then together they remarked:
"We'll call this multiplication."
But Pa appeared upon the scene
And snorted with decision.
He kicked poor Joe three blocks away
And said: "That's long division."

---

Seniors were born for great things,
Sophs were born for small;
But it is not recorded why
Freshmen were born at all.

---

Freshmen are green
And are heard but not seen,
Sophomores are nearly as bad.
The Juniors are worse,
They look like a hearse.
But the Seniors are
Bright girls and lads.

Miss Yerkes: "Can you tell me what the early settlers wore?"
Elizabeth H.: "Why, they wore skins and hides."

---

Mr. Larson: "If you can't breathe, you're unhealthy."
(We'll say so.)

---

Della Brooks: "Why didn't Henry Ford go on with his first project?"
Miss Yerkes: "What was that?"
Della Brooks: "Well, he was going to make a fifty-cent watch just like a flivver."

---

Williard: "What was the speech about?"
Mr. Larson: "About thirty minutes."

---

Mr. Larson: "Lincoln was a poor boy and he became President. I am a poor boy, therefore, I too can become President."
Margaret: "Oh, but Lincoln was a genius."

---

Mildred: "With his long winded breeches—I mean speeches "

---

Raymond: "Weren't some of those kings down there queens?"

---

Mr. Larson: "And the ice melted and the water flew away."

---

Little Dignity Chasers: Having the chair which you are sitting on collapse when you are one of a great many in Music class. (Ask A. E. for particulars.)

---

Famous Words of Famous Teachers: "We'll have a written lesson tomorrow."
Familiar Words: "I'll answer any question on any subject."
