DEDICATION

To the high ideals of students which, though often obscured by youth's impatient words and deeds, hold high a guiding light which leads them on toward the heights untouched by sordidness, and the memory of the students of the past who, through their untiring efforts have made possible a better system of education, we respectfully dedicate this Palladium.

PALLADIUM STAFF HISTORY

The Palladium staff wishes to express its gratitude to its advisor, Leslie G. Lee, without whose help the completion of the 1938 Palladium would have been impossible.

It has been the ambition of the Palladium staff this year to give you something just a little bit different from the general run of yearbooks. We sincerely hope that we have succeeded. The annual was turned over to Edwards Brothers, Inc., Ann Arbor, early in May and went on sale in June. The photographs were taken by the Camp Publishing Company at Ypsilanti, whose cooperation we deeply appreciate.

We believe that much praise is due Wesley Eickholdt for his grand work on the division pages of our Palladium, and to Miss Doris Reber and her art department for the cover and advertising pages, and to the many others whose help we found invaluable in publishing this year's annual.

CLASS HISTORY

As we look back over the four years of our high school education, we realize that many friends have been made, and much happiness has been ours.

When we mounted the steps for the first time to enter high school as freshmen, we elected as our class officers: Keene Bolton, President; Albert Boelens, Vice-President; Virginia Washburne, Secretary; Cecil Giles, Treasurer. Our first ventures in raising money for our trip to Washington were begun. Candy and bake sales were held frequently throughout the year. A carnival was given by all four grades in the gymnasium. The freshmen class was well represented by a sweet shop and a grab-bag.

With one year finished 55 students entered as sophomores the following September. At our first class meeting we chose Lois Chapman, President; Cecil Giles, Vice-President; Nancy McLouglin, Secretary; Alice Eaton, Treasurer.

Our Junior year was a notable one. It stands out more vividly in our minds than the two preceding years. The Junior play was given in the form of a variety show with two one act plays. The J-Hop was held in the school gymnasium April 2 and was an unusual success. The gym was transformed into a penthouse and the decorations were beautifully arranged. The class officers were: Cecil Giles, President; Albert Boelens, Vice-President; Keene Bolton, Treasurer; Margaret Garden, Secretary. We were guided by our class sponsors, Mr. Edwin L. Johnson and Mr. Elliot Barr. At the close of our Junior year our treasury held $124.33 which was saved for our goal, a trip to Washington.

The Senior year went much faster and meant far more to the forty-nine remaining seniors than had those first three years. Our class officers were Martin Breitmeyer, President; Cecil Giles, Vice-President; Doris Tewksbury, Secretary; Walter Garchow, Treasurer. For our sponsors we chose Principal G. V. Harrison and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke to guide us through our last year of high school. The senior booth at the Northville-Wayne County Fair proved to be our best money-making project bringing in a profit of $343.49. To Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, who worked tirelessly in helping us in this venture, we owe a debt of gratitude.

Because of the experience gained in giving the J-Hop the Senior Prom was carried on more efficiently and economically, the profits showing $56.26. April 1 was our last effort of importance, the class play, "The Importance of Being Earnest" was promoted under the direction of Miss Estelle Griffiths and Mr. E. C. Mollema.

April 25th twenty-nine seniors boarded a train at the Northville depot and our work was about to be rewarded. Four years of working and saving had made it possible for us to enjoy a pleasurable and educational trip to Washington. Now forty-nine seniors are planning for their graduation from dear Northville High School in June.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In 1935 this years Junior Class entered High School as freshmen and were led through a very successful school year by Pat McLoughlin, President; Dick Ambler, Vice-President; Lucille Lapham, Secretary; John Angell, Treasurer and Cecil Nirider alderman to the Student Council.

The most important event of the year was the boat trip to Put-in-Bay. After a very pleasant vacation we came back to school as Sophomores with Bill Schoultz, President; Alfred Cousins, Vice-President; Catherine Biery, Secretary; Don Armstrong, Treasurer and Louise Alexander alderman to the Student Council. This year the class put on two dances and again conducted the trip to Put-in-Bay.

True to tradition this years Junior Class completed two very noteworthy projects, the Junior Play, "Fifty-Fifty," and the annual J-Hop. The Junior Play, which was very successful, was directed by Mr. E. C. Mollema and Miss Estelle Griffiths and presented on March 8-9.

The J-Hop; one of the most important dances of the year, was given on April 8. Jane Van Atta, chairman of the decoration committee, and her assistants transformed the gymnasium into a spring festival. Billy Schoultz, chairman of the orchestra committee, did a very good job in choosing Ray Robbins' orchestra to provide the music for approximately 125 couples. The Grand March was led by Don Armstrong, Class President, and Betty Jane Gillespie.

The Junior Class seems to like to do things in a big way. All the various athletic teams as well as the Band, Choir and Operetta consisted of a large number of Juniors.

The class was led through the year by Don Armstrong, President; Dorothy Heaton, Vice-President; Jack McCrumb, Secretary; Geraldine Johnston, Treasurer; and Benny Duguid Alderman to the Student Council. Miss Kathryn Giltner and Mr. E. C. Mollema were the Class Sponsors.

Miss Florence Harper and Miss Gladys Ludwig were their sponsors.

The main objective of this class, as with all other classes, was to make money. Those projects that were successful were: two candy sales, a Play Day, and matinee dances. The freshman class picnic was held at Island Lake.

The class again elected Robert Orr, President, and he led the class groups through a successful year, with the aid of the other class officers: Donald Green, Vice-President; Jean Orr, Secretary; Leonard Fritz, Treasurer; and Roger Miller, Alderman to the Student Council. Later on in the school year, Arlene Blake was chosen to replace Roger Miller on the council when the latter left school. Miss Doris Reber and Miss Gladys Ludwig acted as their sponsors.

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COUNCIL HISTORY

At the time the new members took up the duties left to them by last year's Student Council, there was a debt of $210.50. on the books. They began enthusiastically to sponsor all the major sports, the first being football. It happened that football came very close to paying for itself for the first time in several years.

At the beginning of the basketball season, the School Board voted to help the Council financially to the extent of $125.00 to be used for current expenses. Without this help it is doubtful that the Council would have finished the year as well as it did.

The Student Council's main source of income as in former years was basketball. They held several jitney dances after home games, as well as giving one informal dance. During the course of the school year the council sponsored a re-enactment of the famous play "Rip Van Winkle" and also an Indian exhibition.

This spring the organization backed track and baseball, and completely erased the debt that had faced them at the beginning of the school year.

FOOTBALL TEAM

 Second row:—H. Smith, Coach; J. Holcomb, Manager; J. Defino; R. Larkin; D. Bray; W. Meyers; J. Beall; E. Baughman;
 W. Bogart; B. Duguid; L. Fritz, Manager. Third row:—L. McArthur; W. Washburne; D. McCluskie;
 J. Funke; K. Willis; H. Eickholdt; J. Dixon; J. Spagnuolo; S. Lester; C. Parker.

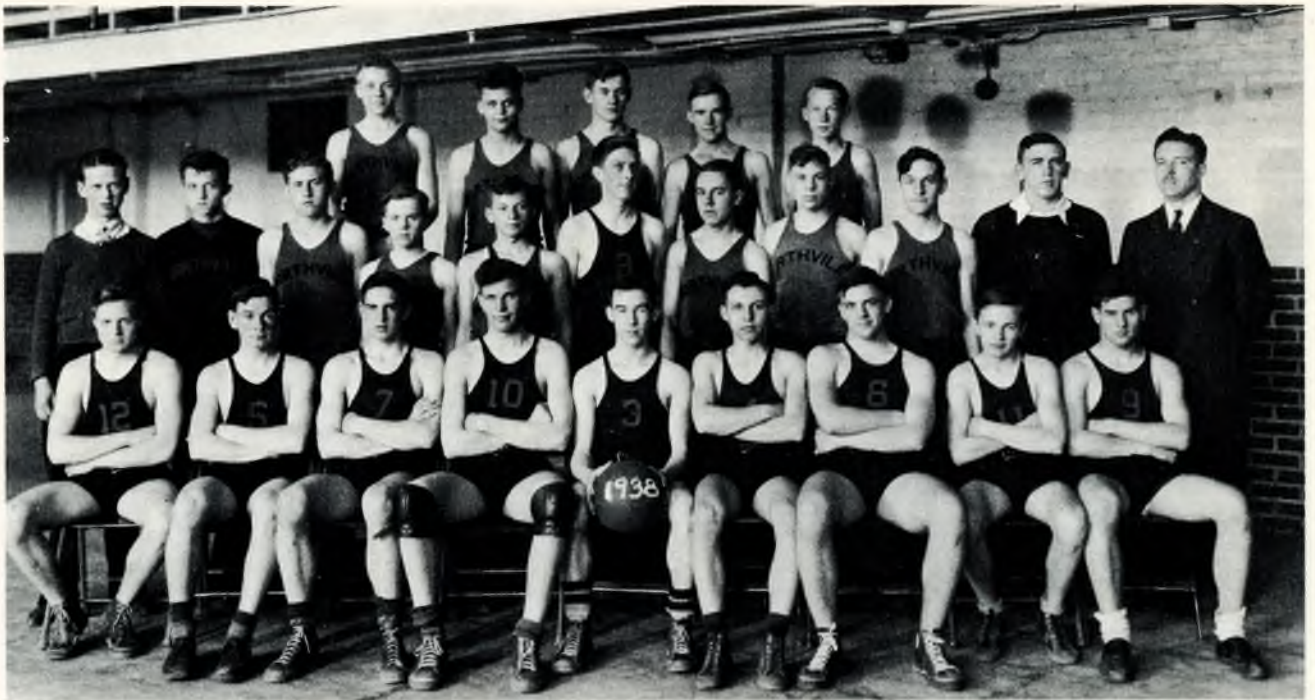

FOOTBALL HISTORY

Northville opened her '37 football season with Farmington on the home gridiron at Cass Benton Park. The team wasn't as successful as we hoped it would be, but we did manage to whip Van Dyke 19 to 6.

N.H.S. lost the following seniors this year:

Captain Eber Lester, who played football three years and did his best work in his senior year at tackle position. Sam Aldea, who has also played three years, filled guard position adequately. The end of the season marks the end of two years of football for Albert Boelens. He played quarter back.

Charles Bishop, who played high school football for the first and last time this year did a marvelous job of passing and running back of punts. For the last three years Arthur Mitchell has played half back and full back and was very good on end runs. The other half back position was filled by Claude Hinchman. Harold Card played end.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

BASKETBALL HISTORY

The N.H.S. basketball team, headed by Captain Charles Bishop, won eight of the ten scheduled games this season. Probably the biggest surprise came with our unscheduled clash with Ferndale, a Class A school, when N.H.S. came out on top 49-18.

The most exciting games of the season probably were those played with Plymouth, N.H.S.' arch rivals. The two teams split the games, each winning on their home floor.

The team won the first game of the tournament at Ypsilanti 35-9, defeating Ypsi-Roosevelt, but lost the next night to Lincoln Consolidated 18-17.

Although Northville is a Class C school, she finished in second place in the Suburban League against Class B teams.

BASEBALL HISTORY

Northville enjoyed a very fine season last year by winning the Suburban League title. They lost only to Melvindale, but later avenged this defeat by soundly trouncing them. They had splendid pitching and timely hitting.

Three pitchers bore the pitching assignment and they were Lawrence Way, "Skip" Hochkins, and "Cy" Westphall.

Northville opened her season last year at home by soundly trouncing Farmington 11-4. They next went to Plymouth to battle their old rivals. They quickly subdued Plymouth 10-1. Then over at Trenton they took Trenton 5-3. Then coming back to Northville they were hosts to Redford Union and won this game 8-1. Northville then whitewashed Van Dyke 7-0. The team then met its Suburban League rivals Melvindale and dropped the only game of the season to them 1-3. They came back strong the next week and defeated Redford Union 4-3. Northville then beat Van Dyke 9-2. They went over to Farmington the next week and played 12 innings before eking out a hard-earned victory 4-2. Northville went to Melvindale and took them down from the lead by defeating them 9-5. Then Northville went to Plymouth again demonstrated their superiority by beating them in 8 innings 5-4, winding up a very good season.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL HISTORY

Seven victories in eight starts against such teams as Melvindale, Redford Union, Berkley, and Farmington is the fine record of this year's team.

The record is all the more impressive when it is remembered that five of the six players on the team are juniors and the other is a sophomore. The team piled up some top-heavy scores to end the season. Mary Frances Batt sophomore, ended the season with 56 points while Rose Brunansky junior, was a close second with 53 points.

First Team line-up:

| | |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| Mary Frances Batt | Kathryn Marburger |
| Rose Brunansky | Jeanne Atchison |
| Louise Alexander | Helen Van Sickle |
| Helen Kimmel | Laura Bolton |

| | 22 | Berkley | 14 |
| | 24 | Farmington | 11 |
| | 30 | Berkley | 13 |
| | 32 | Redford Union | 10 |

It would be hard and unfair to pick out any stars for the season because all of the girls played well to give Northville a great season. Much credit should be given to Coach Gladys Ludwig for turning out such a fine team.

The second team closed with a fairly good season, considering the fact that it was the first year out for all the girls. Helen Bramer and Ruth Parmenter tied with 37 points for the season.

CHOIR HISTORY

Many singing engagements in Northville and Plymouth have kept the choir busy during the entire year. At Christmas time a beautiful program was presented in a setting made colorful by the presence of two lighted Christmas trees and the entire room lighted only with candles. The program depicted the story of the prophecy, birth, announcement, and joy of the coming of Christ. The entire story was woven together with continuity and music written by Mrs. Flora Brennan of White Plains, New York. Jane Van Atta robed in white was the narratress. Doris Tewksbury accompanied the choir and Cecil Giles was soloist. Present at this concert were Miss Dorothy James a famous composer, Dr. Frederick Alexander and many other prominent musicians.

The operetta "In Old Vienna" occupied the attention of the choir the second semester. Leading parts were taken by H. Winter, C. Burgess, W. Garchow, J. Cole, W. Miller, C. Giles, M. Breitmeyer, L. Alexander, D. Heaton, A. Mitchell, M. Schoultz, F. Johnston, C. Altman, R. Rembowski, J. Van Atta, and H. Harper.
