Palladium

Northville High School

1942

Looking through the pages of time
And the year books of classes before us,
We composed for you this little rhyme
With a history in its chorus:

In the spring of 1921
Our first "Palladium" was begun,
And the approval with which it met
Was nothing you would e'er forget.
And so continued year by year
Up to the annual you have here.
We've tried to make it bigger and better,
To suit your taste right to the letter.
If we've succeeded we're glad, you know,
And you have helped to make it so
By bringing us prints for our snapshot pages,
Some really the best we've seen in ages.
And now this book we present to you,
Our "Palladium" for 1942

The entire publication of this year book was handled by this group under the guidance of Mrs. Marshall Herrick and helping hands of Mr. Leslie G. Lee. Shirley Musolff and Dick Simmons were Co-editors this year. Margery Rounsville and Yvonne Taylor wrote the written material for the grades and Dorothy Jane Congo and Mary Hollis were responsible for the written material for all of the organizations. Maxine Coe was chairman of the photography committee made up of Phyllis Hancock, Inez Jordan, Maxine Lemmon, Laura Litsenberger, Pat Lord, and Leila Rossow. All of the title pages go to the art committee of Blanche Miller, Thresa Spagnolo, Marcella Funke, Gladys Clark, and Phyl Jones, with Leo Hollis as chairman. Responsible for the sports pages were Myrna Hubbard, chairman, George White, Carrel Carlson, and Louie Babbitt. Handling all typed material was Julia Politz, chairman, Jean Hugg, Christabelle Stoianoff, Joanne Vroman, and Florence Rentchler. Bob Vogtlin, chairman of circulation had the help of both the Junior and Senior Student Councils in a drive for sales. Much effort has been put forth to make this book bigger and better than ever before.

PALLADIUM

The following list includes the names of former students and graduates of Northville High School who are now serving in the Armed Forces of the United States.

The only missing one of the list is Wallace Whipple who is believed to be lost with the U. S. S. Edsel. He was last heard of in the Battle of Java in March, 1942.

Harold Hubbard, Rex Dye, Lawrence Bogart, Eugene Hogan, Julius Nagy and Gilbert Forshee have all been with the Class of '42 during part of their school career. Gardner Moon left the ranks of school early in this year to join the services.

The Mayor, Secretary, Treasurer, and Chief of Police are chosen and voted for each spring by the entire student body. In the fall each homeroom elects an alderman to represent it. at the council meetings. These members are Mayor, B. Vogtlin, Secretary, M. Coe, Treasurer, L. Babbitt, and Chief of Police R. McCluskie.

The aldermen are, Senior; Mary Hollis, and R. Hartner, Junior; D. Orr and Bud Murray, Sophomore; C. Siclovan and A. J. Flagerty, Freshmen; D. Steininger, C. Thomasson and D. Moon. Keith Simmons represents Junior High in the Senior Council. Mr. G. V. Harrison is the groups advisor.

The council meets on Tuesday mornings to handle any problems that might arise in the student body. They sponsor boys' athletics in N. H. S. which in this past year were football, basketball, baseball, and golf.

Throughout the year they sponsored a number of Friday night dances, sold "Mustang" pins, sponsored the contest for new school yells, formed a committee that planned the assembly programs, formed Junior Defense Council and a Junior Red-Cross Committee. They also handled the main selling of this year book.

Memories of

Washington D.C.

Washington D.C. 1935

PALLADIUM
CLASS HISTORY

On June 19, 1942, one more regiment of soldiers will join the ranks of graduates from the Northville High School Barracks. Behind this regiment there will be left but a battlefield of memories. Of these memories of high school days gone by, long to be cherished in the hearts of the members of the class of '42, there are many.

On September 7, 1938, a fresh but frightened regiment of troops, 110 strong, marched through the doors of N.H.S. Barracks. This freshman class, like so many before it, had one main objective which must be conquered--graduation 4 years hence. After receiving their fighting implements consisting of books, pencils, etc., these troops set out on their great offensive. Leading this class into battle were; President-Harold Schoultz, Vice President-Laura Jean Litsenberger, Secretary-Dawn Sutton, Treasurer-Bob Stremich; Alderman to Student Council-Myrna Hubbard, and lone sponsor, Mr. Wheeler. June 16, 1939, found this class bringing to a close their first major campaign with much success. During the course of this drive the troops had been entertained by the Sophomore Class in the annual Sophomore-Freshman party. The treasury boasted a total of $6.89 which had been acquired by a collection from the members.

The following fall of 1939, the class once more stormed the barracks of N.H.S. During the summer, some of the veterans had been lost but new enlistees were soon to take their places. This year a new method of attack was planned. Shouting the cry of "Charge" were President-Maxine Coe, Vice President-Robert McCluskie, Secretary-Dick Simmons, Treasurer-Robert Stremich, and two sponsors, Miss Gladys Ludwig and Coach "Tex" Walker. Again taking the offensive the class of '42 plunged into battle. During this siege they entertained the Freshman Class and chose the rings which were to be symbolic of their regiment. At the close of this second advancement, these troops were feeling very proud and felt that victory was close at hand. They had the total amount of $55.98 which had been gained through much hard work.

This regiment, hardened by their past experiences, rode into battle on the back of 1940. Their troops numbered eighty-five strong. They were now Juniors and this was the year that they were to begin earning hours toward their forthcoming journey to our Nation's Capitol which would take place on their last year in service. The first encounter they had with the task of earning money was at the Northville fair, where the feminine half of the regiment sold Vernors' ginger-ale. Their next enterprise was their Junior Play, "Life Begins at Sixteen." They were led by Mr. Charles Yahne. The spoils from this attack amounted to $106.37. Now they were faced with the problem of the J-Hop. With the help of Frank Links' Orchestra, they were awarded with success and $89. The magazine campaign netted a sum over $100. They then participated in the Carnival. They got $6.75 from that enterprise. Through this trying siege they were led by the very able officers, namely: President-Maxine Coe, Vice President-Robert Stremich, Secretary-Laura Jean Litsenberger, Treasurer-Myrna Hubbard, Alderman-Bob Vogtlin, and sponsors, Mr. Yahne and Miss Giltner.

The fall of '41 finally rolled around. Their first objective, was the Senior Booth at the fair. They came out of that victorious with the amount of $599.86. In November came the Senior Rrom. Everyone fought hard to acquire the spoils to be gotten from such an offensive. They were aided by Jack Roseauer's orchestra. That same month they sold Christmas cards and made $358.35. Another memorial battle was that of the Senior Play. It was written and directed by Mr. Yahne. This play was named "Summer Chills." Their profits on this amounted to $126.35. Like other regiments before them, they sold candy at noons and at social events. They made the sum of $170.17 on this enterprise. At last came the day when they were to leave for Washington D.C. This was their first furlough in the four long year they had been in service. They had a wonderful time and even had $128.67 left in their treasury. After they returned they started looking forward to graduation. This great event took place June 18, 1942, which will always stand out in the hearts of every Senior of '42. It was preceded by Class Night and Baccalaureate. They were led through this great year by Mr. Charles Yahne and Miss Katheryn Giltner-Sponsors, Robert Stremich-President, Harold Schoultz-Vice President, Laura Jean Litsenberger-Secretary, Robert McCluskie-Treasurer, Ray Hartner and Mary Hollis-Aldermen.

The Sophomore class started a successful year headed by Jack Taggart as president; Douglas Slessor, vice-president; Suzanne Howell, secretary; and Robert Mac Donald, treasurer.

Their first major event was the annual Freshman-Sophomore party. The Sophomores sponsored the party, the Freshman coming as their guests.

Their second enterprize was a Bake Sale, followed by an assembly. This program was in the form of a Quiz Show and was enjoyed by the entire high school.

The Sophomore's last social event of the year was the Spring Dance, given on May 15. Don Barnard's orchestra provided the music and it was another success added to the list of the class of '43.

Fourth: Edwina Dickerson, Maxine Wick, Margorie Seguin, Joyce Fitzwater, Beverly Hay, Donna Jerore, Joanne Montgomery, Dorothy Steininger, Shirley Hodge, Eleanor Mitchell, Rose Marie Young, Carol Holycross, Evelyn Boyd, Shirley Ely, Norma Hazlett, Jean Purtee.

Third: Charles Custer, Perry Graham, Arthur Gotts, Thomas Curl, Earl Croll, Ten Baldwin, Dick Green, Bruce Simmons, Bob Ely, John Stark, Joe Bongiovanni, Jack Card, William Croll, John Pullen, Dick Wook, Douglas Dye, David Moon.

Second: John Schaffer, Betty Snow, Hazel Cove., Margaret Ely, Arlene VanSickle, June Laney, Carol McFarland, Dorothy King, Jean Cooley, Mae Heintz, Dorothy Leavenworth, Gwen Howell, Isabel Beall, Betty Cullon, Hazel Ruby Williams, Mary Newhouse.

Front: Miss Ione Palmer, Ella Barker, Betty Tyler, Shirley Lyke, Joanne Kitchen, Loyola German, Marjorie McKeague, Geraldine Wolfe, Bernice Beauchamp, Vera Briggs, Alice Harper, Miss Tisha Brassfield.

A group of 89 makes up the present Frosh class. Because of the size of this class it has been divided into 3 home rooms. During their two years in Junior high the members of this class took part in both carnivals and many members held offices on the Junior Student Council. Graduating from Jr. High they elected the following officers—Harry German-Pres. Dorothy Steininger-Vice Pres.—Loyola German-Sec.—Mary Ellen Babbitt-Treas. As aldermen are representative of home rooms there were three: Dorothy Steininger-David Moon, and Claire Thomasson.

Front: M. Brady, A. Keller, E. Parcell, P. Rodgers, V. Kuehn, Mrs. Cooke, B. Stahl, J. Litsenburger, S. Poulos, E. Stanford, E. Cranson.

Next year these 58 students will leave the Jr. High and soar to higher ranking. Today they are but completing the 8th. grade. In Sept. they will enter the Senior High School and be called Freshman. This is seemingly a great step for it is then that they will organize, electing their own class officers and class sponsors, and set out on their own.

The activities that they have undertaken in Jr. High will be to an advantage when they meet some of the problems of Senior High School.

The Junior Student Council has achieved many things this year. They sponsored girls' basketball as they have done in the past. Their profit from the games and selling candy was forty dollars and forty eight cents. They have taken in nine dollars and fifty-nine cents on movies, twelve dollars on "magic" slates that they sold and two dollars and twenty-two cents from one candy sale. Victory garden seeds were also sold by them this spring.

On March 27 the council sponsored a dance. The gym was decorated in red, white, and blue. Mike Klienshmidts orchestra furnished the music and the affair proved a great success with a profit of forty-three dollars and fifty-seven cents. The total for this successful year was one-hundred and fifteen dollars and eighty eight cents.

The officers of the Council are as follows:

Membership in this organization is open to any girl owning a letter earned in any sport in Northville High School, and who is willing to abide by the constitution.

The purpose of this club is to create greater efficiency in student and girls' activities, to raise the standards of scholarship, the morals of athletics and student activities, to secure greater cooperation between students and faculty, and last but not least to create better sportsmanship in and about Northville High School.

This year the club sponsored two dances, one last October 17, and the other on May 29. They were hostesses to the schools in their basketball league at "Play Day" held in the gym March 12. A pot-luck supper was given at the close of initiation. This year eleven new members came into the club, and ten graduates left.

H.M.S. Pinafore
May 7-8

High School
Auditorium

The choir has about sixty-five members and is capable of singing eight part arrangements.

The group gave it's annual winter concert, sang at the Cass Technical High School for the Michigan Educational Association and has appeared locally several times this year.

Each year the choir stages a well known light opera. This year it was "H. M. S. Pinafore" by Gilbert and Sullivan. It was presented May 7 and 8 in the high school auditorium. The leading characters in the Thursday and Friday nights respectively were, Bill Bobstay, Ray Haney; Dick Deadeye, Wallace Reid; Little Buttercup, Shirley Price and Carrel Carlson; Ralph Rackstraw, Robert Stremich; Captain Corcoran, Don Butler and George Hunter; Josephine, Donna Jerore and Blanche Miller; Sir Joseph Porter, Jack Taggart and Norman Hickok; Cousin Hebe, Phyllis Knight and Yvonne Taylor.

Dorothy Steininger was the choir's accompanist throughout the year.

The shelves of the school's library are lined with encyclopedias, biological history, and many other books for the students' benefit.

This year a new vertical file was placed in the library for bulletins and pamphlets. Thirty-five new fiction books, twenty-four non-fiction books, a "Lincoln Library of Essential Information" and Atlas were purchased, and thirty-five magazines were subscribed for. In addition to this, fourteen fiction books were replaced, and forty-four old books rebound.

Miss Tisha Brassfield, in charge of the library, chooses these girls to work there during school hours.

The O & B Staff or Journalism class writes all the material for the Orange and Black page in the local paper. All of the Articles are taken down to the Record office on Monday and Tuesday and proof-read by two students on Wednesday.

All the dances, plays, ball games, and the "Washington trip" received a lengthy write-up besides numerous shorter items under the columns "Around the School", "Jr. High" and "Grade Notes". Every one of the seventy six seniors had his or her "Senior Sketch" in print, while the staff all took turns at writing on Editorials. The class also made and dispersed all the sports posters during the year and did a great deal of work on the year book.

As far along as our Golf matches have gone this season, it shows that they have been meeting up with stiff competition, having tied their first match with Ann Arbor and losing the next two with Plymouth and Redford Union.

They have 3 matches to go to prove they have just gotten off to a slow start.

April 23, Ann Arbor - tied
April 27, Plymouth - lost
May 11, Redford Union - lost
May 21, Ann Arbor -
May 25, Plymouth -
May 28, Redford Union -

Cheer Leaders

Left to right: Perry Graham, Phyllis Jones, Alfred Heatley, Carrel, Carlson, David Moon.

This year a contest was sponsored by the Senior Student Council to have a new school cheer. The contest was won by Jean Cooley, a ninth grader, who received a free Palladium as her reward. The winning cheer goes as follows:

Is it South?
Is it East?
Is it West?
NO--its NORTHVILLE!!
Rah-Rah-Rah-
Rah-Rah-Rah-
Rah-Rah-Rah-
Yeah--Northville.

Two of the cheerleaders will leave this year but the ones remaining are also considered very good. They have led yells at all the games, both away and at home, and at the pep meetings. They really deserve much praise for their efforts.
