In August 1952 we came to the United States. After many exciting incidents such as our selection, the train-trip to Italy, a trip on the SS Independence from Genoa to New York, and the bus trip from New York to Ann Arbor, we met our foster-parents, with whom we were going to stay for the year. They brought us to Northville and into their homes. Soon we started to meet their friends, who, together with our foster parents, helped us to feel at home in Northville and to overcome our language difficulties.

When school started, we met American students and faced many things that were new for us, such as our choice of subjects, football and basketball, clubs and parties. We soon made friends and took part in most of the activities. We were able to visit Michigan State College, the University of Michigan, high schools in Detroit, the Ford Motor Company, Northville State Hospital, the Wayne County Training School, Maybury Sanatorium, Traffic Court, and the Detroit Institute of Arts.

All this helped us to get acquainted with the American people, their ways of living and thinking, and their problems. We learned how democracy has grown in the United States and made her the strong nation she is today.

We want to thank the American people, especially our friends in Northville, for this chance of our lifetime. We believe that this opportunity will enable us to take part in promoting world understanding.

The Senior Class presented the comedy "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", the story of two teen-age girls on their summer vacation.

Cornelia Otis Skinner, a vital girl who if not acting out a little scene for herself, was direct and down to earth, and Emily Kimbrough, a delicate pretty girls, rather naive, but not in the standard wide-eyed manner, sailed for Europe in 1923. The play is centered around their fun-producing experiences. There was a host of enjoyable characters ranging from the showy, overdramatic, Monsieur De La Croix to a easy-going, friendly, and talkative window washer. The audience as well as the class agreed that this production, under the expert direction of Miss Panattoni was a great success.

The Juniors got off to a flying start under the leadership of President Bob Burgess, Vice-President Jim Mitchell, Secretary Joanna Weismyer, and Treasurer Jean Nieuwkoop. Carrying on a serious campaign to raise funds for next year's class trip, the Juniors had many profitable projects. Among these were the traditional J-Hop and play, sales of baked goods, magazines, school pennants and felt initials, and a school dance. The class sponsors were Mr. Mollema and Mr. Yahne.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a representative body of the high school which strives to improve school conditions, improve co-operation between students and faculty, and settle problems which might arise.

The Council's officers are chosen by general election in May. The other members, the alderman and alternates, are chosen by each homeroom in September. Both groups assume their positions at the beginning of the school year.

Among the projects sponsored by the Student Council were the Ford Field concession booth, basketball food stand, book drive for a Philippine school, March of Dimes, Blood Donation Drive and the serving of refreshments to players after league basketball games.

The Council participated in the Wayne-Oakland League. The meetings were held on the second Wednesday of each month with each school acting as host to one league meeting. The league discussed problems common in all of the schools and sponsored a league talent show.

JUNIOR STUDENT COUNCIL

Smith Pethers Yahne Robinson
Mrs. Cooke Whitehead Strasen Biery Williams
Karg Bell Malott Kritch

The Junior Student Council is to the Senior Student Council as the state government is to the national. The council governs the Junior High but gives up some sovereignty to the Senior Student Council.

It has been a very active group this year. Led by officers Buddy Bell, President; Janet Malott, Secretary; and Ardyce Atwood, Treasurer; they have carried out the following activities: selling pop corn, milk, and seeds, and providing laundry service for the athletic department and uniforms for the seventh and eighth grade basketball players.

BAND

Under the able direction of Mr. Page and Mr. Lee, the band played at Michigan State Fair and received a trophy. During the football season, they executed some brilliant marching formations. Mr. Burton, who taught at Northville two years ago, returned in February and assisted Mr. Lee in individual lessons. In the district festivals, Marlene Weiss, Arlene Jerome, Janie Beckel and Ardena Leavenworth got top ratings. A brass sextet composed of Walter Newton, Barbara Prunty, Francis Malley, Joel Soule, Dennis Proctor and Jean Campbell and a woodwind group composed of Judy Tetzlaff, Marlene Weiss, Janice Howarth, and Jean Campbell got "two" ratings.

The band held its winter concert March 10 and its spring concert April 14. Following these activities, the band marched in the Memorial Day Parade.

Northville was fortunate to have 28 members win places in the league band which gave two outstanding concerts this year. One was held at Brighton and one at Clarkston.

This year's group of forty-five members was one of the smallest choirs in several years. However, the hard work and enthusiasm of the singers more than made up for their lack in numbers. The choir with its two glee clubs performed for many local clubs throughout the year; it also assisted in school assemblies and the Senior Baccalaureate service. Major events in the choir season were its spring and winter concerts; for these Director Leslie G. Lee chose songs ranging from an arrangement of "Blue Tail Fly" to the traditional "Emitte Spirituum". Marlene Weiss did an excellent job as accompanist.

DEBATE

Rambeau Ashburn Prunty Newton Dewsbury Severance Weiss Newton Lovewell Lovewell

Under the direction of Miss Panattoni, debate got off to a good start. Practice debates were held with Plymouth, Farmington, Lansing Eastern, Lansing Sexton, Ann Arbor, and Clarenceville. The experience gained from these debates was useful in winning 7 out of 8 League Debates, and the District Championship. Marlene Weiss and Walter Newton constituted the affirmative team and Lucien and Mary Lovewell the negative team. The question under debate was, "Shall the Atlantic Pact Nations Form a Federal Union?" Walter Newton and Lucien Lovewell won the District Championship by beating St. Clair Shores, Melvildale, and Farmington. They debated both sides of the question. They entered the state finals against Flint Northern on March 25. Congratulations to the debate team on their good work!

The Forensic Club was established in 1950 and has been a growing concern in Northville High from the beginning. This is sponsored by Miss Panattoni and the officers are President Arlene Nelson, Secretary Nancy Dewsbury, Treasurer Lucien Lovewell and Co-program chairmen Walter Newton and David Severance. In September the club invited all prospective members to a picnic held at Dave Severance's cottage. This success seemed to spark the activities during the year: a prosperous bake sale, a "Sock Hop" held after the Milford basketball game, a trip to Ann Arbor to "The Birds" a Greek play, and the sponsoring of a League Debate Tournament. One valuable achievement of the year was the forming of their constitution, which was approved by the club on February 24. All in all the club has had a busy and successful year.

The Ida B. Cooke Chapter of the Future Teachers of America Club began the school year under the able sponsorship of Mrs. Pauline Smith. The club met twice a month for business meetings and for the special education speakers: Mrs. Bergin, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. McKinney, and Mr. Rossetti. The club's activities also included practice teaching to introduce the students to grade school teaching methods and prepare them for the future teaching profession.

The club also sponsored a dance on October 24, participated in a field trip to Ypsilanti, sent the club officers to a conference in Holly, and held a tea for all Northville teachers in April.

This year the Pep Club was remodeled. In September a group of 45 students met, under the direction of Mrs. Stafford and Mr. Skow and elected the following officers: Arlene Nelson, President; Theresa Duchesneau, Vice-President; Jean Nieuwkoop, Secretary; Sharon Teshka, Treasurer. They started an enthusiastic program--Pep Rallies before every game presented skits, cheers, and music by the Pep Band. Big "send offs" for the football team were given before all "away" games. Two dances were held in February, one of which was a parent-student square dance well received by the students. These activities helped pay for the new sweaters purchased for the cheerleaders at the beginning of the year. The newly organized Pep Club certainly accomplished their goal of promoting school spirit.

CHEER LEADERS

Adcox Ratliff Hix White Dickinson

With a whole new group, except for Lillian Dickinson, the cheerleaders were a great inspiration to our teams throughout the year.

These girls took their task to heart and practiced constantly for improvement. They introduced many new cheers which we all appreciated.

Among their activities they sponsored two dances and a bake sale. They attended the cheerleaders clinic in Ann Arbor.

Three cheers for our hard working cheerleaders. We loved you!!!!

Officers of the club for this year were: President--Al Iverson, Vice-President--Gary Hix, Secretary-Treasurer--Glenn Howarth. The entrance requirement for the group is a varsity letter in any sport; this year, there were over ten initiates. The major project of the club was the purchase of plenty of new towels for the fellows' locker room. The N-Club began raising money for the towels with their annual Queen Contest. Queen Roberta Malott and her court, Jackie Keyes and Carolyn Ratliff, reigned over Northville's homecoming football game.

The Library Club was formed in 1942 with the two-fold purpose of preparing girls to assist in the library and to acquaint students with books and library practices. This year the girls have mended more books than usual to save money to spend on more books.

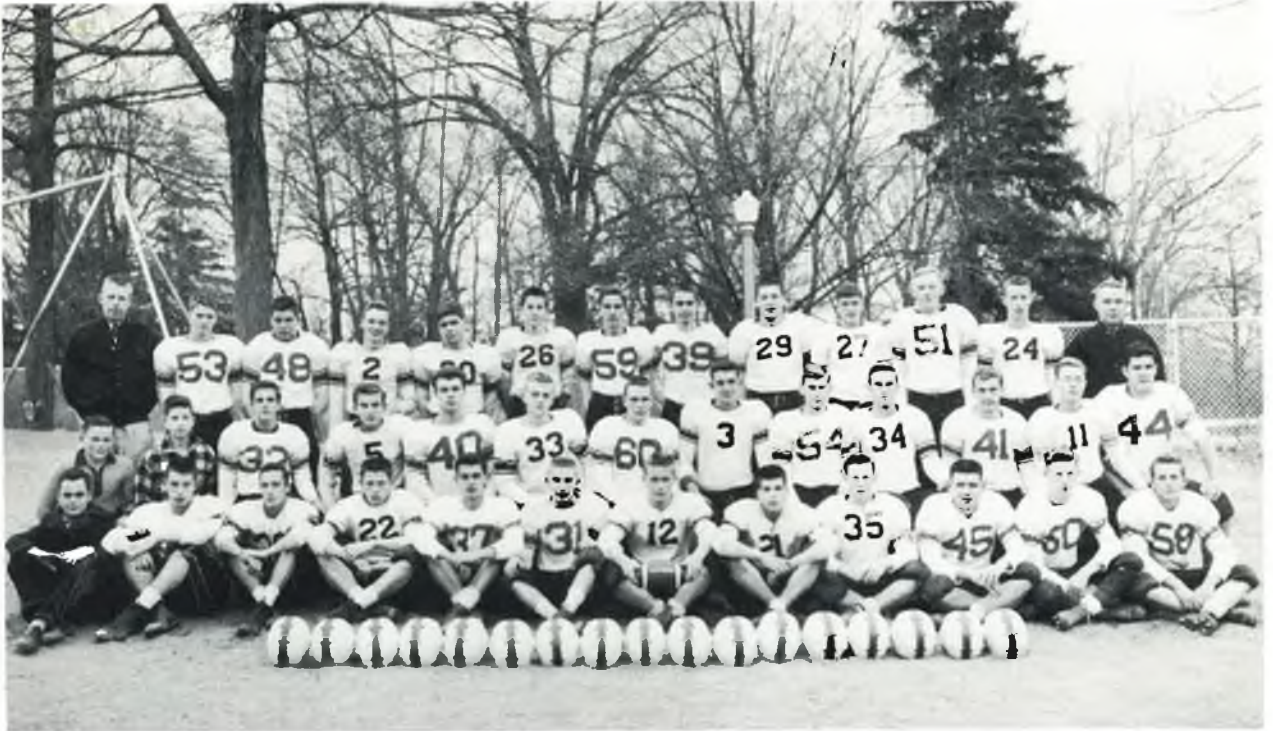

The Club usually prepares special exhibits for book week and holidays. They have also kept interesting exhibits in the bookcase in the lower hall. A dance was sponsored February 6th. The annual Valentine's tea for the teachers was held February 11th in the teachers room. Since the name of the club is the Book Worms we bought black and orange book worm pins.

The 1952-53 Mustang Squad produced an eventful season record of 12 wins and 3 losses. The whole team is one to be proud of because of their fine spirit and effort. Our first game with Plymouth turned out to be a big surprise to everyone when we won 42 to 37. This lit the spark which sent our team fighting for the championship. The next time we met Plymouth we found them determined to win. Our boys played an unforgettable game which went into overtime. The Mustangs ended in 2nd place, losing the championship by only 3 points. Credit should be given to Coach Dick Kay and Co-Captains Gerry Graham and Dick Somers for their fine job of inspiring the squad. Our tall center Glenn Howarth had an average of 15 points per game. After the regular season was over the Mustangs played for the District Championship and won it. In the fight for the Regional Championship the Mustangs were beaten by Utica in Pontiac.

The reserve basketball squad, ably coached by Mr. Johnston, won ten out of fifteen games. The team considered the two Plymouth games to be the outstanding games of the year. Plymouth won their home game by a large margin, but we retaliated with an exceptional performance on our home floor. Darwin Teshka was high point man through the year with 183 points.

GOLF

The 1952 champs, Bruce Felker, Bruce Rose, and Art Carlson, along with fifteen new golf talents, opened the 1953 season in April with Mr. Meaker as coach.

Matches were played with Milford, Holly, Brighton, Plymouth, Walled Lake, and Howell. The squad competed in the league tournament and the regional contest, held at the University of Michigan course.

TENNIS

This year a tennis team, the first in over ten years, was organized by Ronald Schipper. Matches involving squads of ten boys were played against many nearby schools. We hope that this support will continue on Northville's athletic roster in future years.
