C a r p e

Carpe Diem, Latin for "Seize the Day" has many meanings for our generation. To some people, it means to make each moment of life meaningful. While for others, the phrase is a challenge to reach their potential, constantly challenging themselves. The phrase means actions, goals, triumphs, and failures. In this book, we have tried to capture the many meanings of Carpe Diem. So, "Come my friends, 'tis not too late to seek a newer world" and enter the memories of the 1993-94 school year.

Diem

Invictus

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud.
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds and shall find me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishment the scroll,
I am the master of my fate.
I am the keeper of my soul.

-William Ernest Henley

Activities

As the years pass by, the memories of activities at NHS are some of the most pleasant. Homecoming, Spirit Week pep rallies, class competition, special assemblies, the Fall Play and Spring Musical, and just hanging out on the Mustangs bleachers on Friday nights with friends can become events unequaled at any other time in our lives. Of course, these events are only what people make them, and at HNHS they are fun and exciting times.

Student Life

The N.H.S. hallways are never empty. Walking through the school, people may see class meetings, organizations hard at work and sports practicing. Our students come from diverse backgrounds and blend their ideas to make our school successful!

1994 Organizations

Northville High School offers many extracurricular activities for students. In fact, over fifty percent of students participate in one or more activities. The organizations range from Student Congress to Students Aware of the World. Students in the organizations may develop leadership skills to help later in life. On November 19, 1993, many student leaders travelled to Oakland Community College to share and discuss ideas for their organizations. The day not only encouraged people to continue in their activities, but also improve them.

Among the victors include Women's Tennis winning the division championship, and the Varsity Football team advancing to the playoffs. Women's swimming placed second in the conference meet, and the Women's diving team had the best year ever. Good job Mustangs!

When times start to get rough on the hill, students know that there is a place they can go and talk about problems. Whether pertaining to school or not, counselors are always around to talk to students. The counselors help to make N.H.S. a more livable place for staff and students. The students often help out the counselors, just as much as the counselors help them. Whenever one walks into the counseling office there's always other students helping out.

Foreign Language

In today's diverse world, it has become essential to be able to communicate with each other. Our foreign language department encourages students to expand their knowledge of languages other than their own. After students complete their course, they have the opportunity to visit countries around the world, and practice their new ability. All foreign language students have opportunities to compete in national contests in their respective language. These contests, along with department awards, keep students motivated in their study of other cultures.

Europe Trip

On Wednesday, June 23, 1993, a group of N.H.S. students, teachers, and other adults set out for Moscow. Dressed completely in black, our tour guide Natasha, arrived in a rush. Over the next few days, we visited Red Square, Lenin's tomb, and various other sites. A few of us went to the Bolshoi Ballet and also to a graduation party for some nearby Russian students. While one traveler still wondered where the "Black Market Building" was, another screamed "Gorky Park" and still a few more looked for a "good trade." We found the best trading area one rainy day in the cold; all of us could be found trading American jeans and cigarettes for military watches and other unique Russian gifts. We extended our vocabulary and the most popular phrase was Yackachew!

We next took a plane to Warsaw and viewed many sites from World War II. Some of us found Mr. Ford enthusiastic about a small, side-street shop with an intriguing name, and the rest of us found humor in the large Videogry atop a nearby Burger King. The people here were very friendly, especially Boris, the Speedo-wearing gypsy.

Our first train trip took us to Berlin. The walking tour seemed a bit long, but finally Natasha found her way back to the hotel. The shopping was good, so was the food. Some of our favorite sites were the Berlin Wall, Check-point Charlie, and the Olympic Stadium. The boat tour of the Spree River gave us all a chance to relax a bit.

An overnight train took us to Paris from Berlin. The couchettes were a little close, but for the most part comfortable. And Chanan, what was that that you stuck on Mark's forehead? Mr Ford taught us all about art on his famous "Louvre Tour." Versailles was beautiful, but extremely hot, and the Eiffel Tower showed us long lines, but an incredible view. "Museum hopping" had to be the most popular evening activity.

Finally we went by bus and boat to London. A few brave travelers took the subway in search of Wimbledon, and got there just in time to coax a friendly security guard into allowing some pictures. Here we saw The Tower of London, Harrod's department store, and Buckingham Palace. Picadilly Circus showed us that in London, you have to be 18 to have any fun at night.

In the end, we all agreed that it was a great experience and that we'll never forget our summer trip. A few personal notes: to Chanan, Neeta, Lisa, Jennie, Mark, and Josh -- Long Live the N.N., B.R.F., L.C.F., Playing Dead, and always remember, some things are just wrong.

Director Michael H. Rumbell led the Northville High School Marching Band to many outstanding performances. Drum majors Audrey Wicke, Jeff Schodowski, and Eric Abbey, aided by assistant drum majors Matt Cowles, Mark Fagnani, and Jeremy Shattuck have made this years annual Band-O-Rama, a rousing success. Suited up in their tuxedos, symphonic band set the precedent of classical music at N.H.S. The ever increasing jazz program split into two different groups. Directed by Michael H. Rumbell and Joseph Syler, their swinging performances continued to entertain the crowds at N.H.S. This years instrumental music department enjoyed these and many more successes throughout the school year.

And the Beat Goes On...

The N.H.S. Jazz Band had a productive 93-94 year. Because of the large number of students, two separate Jazz Bands were formed, conducted by Michael Rumbell and Joe Syler. The Jazz Bands performed at several concerts, and also competed in district festival. Guilt

I'm so Sorry
I never had the pleasure of meeting you.
I was young,
you can't blame me -
thought I was in love.
You would be ten.
You see, I had to go to college,
live my life.
But your ghost forever haunts me.
Would you have my eyes.
Please forgive me,
Happy Birthday.
This candle burns for you.

-- Jessica Meridith

Guilt

Slip into the corner.
Inconspicuous eyes.
Grab it.
Hide it.
Is it noticed?
You are unsure.
Question the crime.
Too late for indecision.

Regret

Anger swells.
Temper surges.
Throughout words lead to hasty actions.
Relationship damaged.
Repair impossible.
But did you even win?

Remorse

Circle forms.
Surrounds the victim.
Ridicule.
Hate.
You stand by.
Offer no help.

Guilt

Many ways to spell loneliness
Three A.M. in the subway passages, at the bottom of the escalator--
his fedora turned down;
khaki pants, white T-shirt,
his case open.
He gives a sullen nod
to the clink of a few coins.
And his doleful jazz lingers
on the train,
and accompanies to bed.
Saturday afternoon, late autumn;
sitting by the unlit fire place.
Motionless, waiting for what won't come.
The light is draining,
streaks of grey.
Soiled leaves
swirling down
with the wet wailing wind.
Staring at her photo,
rapt, entranced.
Returned to the moment;
hearing her voice,
seeing her eyes,
feeling her smile.
Reality, the present--
that was long ago
and she is far away.
It is easy to spell loneliness.
Many ways to spell loneliness.

Organizations

S.A.W.

This year, Students Aware of the World, despite its small membership, has attempted to stay busy working for the environment. We have, for the second year, kept the white paper recycling program running throughout the school, and the pop can recycling program in the cafeteria. We are planning in May to plant trees around school grounds that we have received from the National Arbor Day Foundation. During SAW week we will be selling trees through Global Relief, a national reforestation program along with our annual flower sale here at the high school. That week, which ends on Earth Day, we will be sponsoring an information booth along with environmental information on the announcements each morning. As an organization, we are still growing, but hope to leave Northville's students with a better appreciation of our world.

Bernie Tomsa, James Maxwell, and Waldo Gallo empty the full recycling crates. This procedure was instigated by S.A.W. to reduce unwaste waste.

Student Congress Pushes School Improvements

This year, 1993-94, has been a very busy year for Student Congress. It was led by President, Derrick Ritenour; Vice-President, Roopal Vashi; Secretary, Krista Howe; Treasurer, George Lemmon; Historian, Jenny McNally. The year was off to a busy start, with Homecoming arriving a week early. We pulled it off and hoped it was fun for everyone. Student Congress has done many charitable things for Salvation Army, March of Dimes, and other organizations. We helped sponsor the Talent Show with a dating game and have worked on school improvement. We hope it was terrific year for everyone.

Exchange Students

Jessica Reimer - Germany

Northville High School was fortunate to have many foreign exchange students this year. Students came from countries around the world, including Germany and Argentina. These students spend a year in the United State attending school and other activities. Students not only must deal with the language barriers, but also must adjust to a different culture. Susanne Anton from Essens, Germany says the school system was different, but was easy to get used to. She explains that in Germany they concentrate on math and science and at N.H.S. there is a greater variety of classes offered. Among the classes she enjoyed were Journalism and Drawing and Painting. Mariana Saenz from Parano, Argentina also enjoyed the variety of classes at Northville, including Debate class. She also had another culture shock. Coming from warm Argentina, she had to face the freezing temperatures of our Michigan winters. All of us at N.H.S. are glad to have shared a year with our foreign exchange friends. Der Deutsche Verein

Der deutsche Verein hatte ein fantastisches Jahr mit verschiedenen Aktivitäten: Deutsche Videos und Camping, Unterhaltung und Spiel, Singen und Theateraufführungen. Bei den monatlichen Versammlungen sahen wir tolle Vorstellungen wie Zurück in die Zukunft. Aber das erregendste Ereignis war das Deutsche Camp. Zwei Tage lang kamen die Schüler mit anderen Deutschschülern aus verschiedenen Schulen zusammen und übten auf dem Lagerplatz bei Proud Lake die deutsche Sprache mit Skizzen, Such-mal-was Spielen, Singen und dauernder Unterhaltung.

N.H.S. Students Give New Students a Helping Hand

With more than fifty new students attending Northville High School this year, the Adopt-A-Student program turned out to be a great success! Ms. Wallace, the sponsor, gathered the "adopters" in the fall and before the second semester to pair them together with their "adoptees." These volunteers show the new students around the school, guiding them to classes and spending time together before and after school. It's a great way to meet new friends! Thank you to all the Adopt-A-Student volunteers, and we hope that our new students enjoy it here at N.H.S.

Mustanger Staff upgrades their program.

The Mustanger was a success for the 1993-94 school year at Northville. The paper has seen a major overhaul because of the enthusiastic Journalism class and other outstanding volunteers. We have exceeded our goals of monthly issues, color, photographs, and the usage of PageMaker for the Macintosh. It is the hope of the Mustanger staff that we can start a new standard for the Mustanger in the years to come.

YEARBOOK SEIZES OPPORTUNITIES FOR IMPROVEMENT

This year, the yearbook staff worked hard to make our book even better than last year. With the help of a pen given to us by Ms. Zidell, we were able to make many improvements to the layout of our yearbook. Our sponsor, Mrs. Olson, kept us fed and motivated to meet all of our deadlines. The editors would like to thank our sponsor and all of the people who worked on the yearbook.

Northville Pom Pon Grabs Second Place of Division Tournament

Once again, the pom pon team had a fun and successful year under the instruction of Mrs. Warner. The 93-94 season brought back many veteran members but also welcomed many new ones. The girls kicked off the great year by receiving first place for their original routine and camp kickline at summer camp. They performed at all the varsity football and basketball games, pep assemblies, and entered several competitions, including Regionals and States. The team also performed their annual guy-girl routine during spirit week and teamed with the Stevenson team to perform a dance at the Northville-Stevenson basketball game. The members of this years team worked hard, cooperated well with each other, and shared many memorable experiences.

The Northville Men's Golf team made an impressive showing this year with two all division players, seniors Matt Telepo, and George Lemmon, and one all conference player, sophomore, Brian Glock. The team's hard work proved worthwhile, and with Trish Waldecker's expert coaching, had a great season on the green. In the Western Division, Northville's team took division Co-Champions with a 4-1 record. Look forward to another exciting season of golf next fall.

Our high scorers were Erica Brevik riding KW Bristol Creme, Jennifer Cole riding Don Carlos, Erin Thomas riding Cedar Creek Finnian, and Jodi Clark. The competition was tough against Milford, being as Northville is a class B team showing against class A. In spite of the disadvantage, Northville certainly gave them a run for their money.

Set Up for the Win

There was stiff competition this year at volleyball tryouts because of the tremendous number of people who attended. Two male students even tried out. Regulations, however, prevented them from playing for the Mustangs. The girls have had a productive season under the coaching of Laura Murray and leadership of captains Angie Snyder and Krista Howe. The season was highlighted by wins over Novi during the regular season and the district quarter finals, and upsetting Walled Lake Central who held second place in the conference. The girls finished sixth in the league tournament with an overall record of 13-14-6.

This year's group of grapplers made it all the way to the finals before dropping out of the regional tournament. The team ended the season with a 14-7 overall and 5-0 conference record this winter. The powerful team of wrestlers was backed by a strong coaching staff including Bob Boshoven and loyal fans like "Grandma" Tune.

1994 was a great season for several of our individual wrestlers. For the seventh year in a row, N.H.S. sent a wrestler to the state finals. This year Jason Tarrow won the right to compete in this prestigious event. Adam Lynch and James Kyle fell just short of being able to compete as well, but earned regional qualifier titles.

The team will lose Jason Tarrow, Adam Lynch, Chris Harrison, Ryan Baber, Corey Keranen, and Erik Hibbler to graduation this year, but strong underclassmen like Nick Bowersox, Joe Scappaticci (WLAA champ), and Carl Tune are waiting in the wings to fill the empty holes.

N.H.S. has a Junior Varsity squad, a Varsity squad, and a Competitive Cheer Team. Northville Cheerleaders have entered the competitive cheer arena in 1993 under the rules and regulations of the M.H.S.A.A. Competitive Cheerleading is now recognized as a sport in Michigan. The Varsity squad has competed in four MHSAA format competitions; hence qualifying them for Regionals in February. Cheerleaders also compete in the WLAA League meet in early February, exhibiting their leadership qualities, technical uniqueness and dance talents. Cheerleaders are responsible for promoting school spirit and supporting the fall football teams and winter basketball teams.

Coach Schumacher was voted "coach of the year" by M.H.S.A.A.

The team celebrates the "homecoming" of the Baseline Jug after it was lost in 1992 to Novi for the first time since its creation.

The Mustangs "Cheer for dear Northville High" after one of their many victories.

The 1993 Mustangs were incredible! They gained respect from their opponents through hard work, determination and their ability to score. The team brought pride to all of Northville High, and although falling short of the Regional title, achieved their best team record in over 30 years. Head coach, Darrel Schumacher, was honored as "Regional Coach of the Year" by M.H.S.A.A. The team will battle hard again next year, but they have a tough act to follow. It will not be easy, especially following the loss of many players to graduation. Good luck to all seniors, and thanks for a great effort.

John Gatti resists one of the Warriors. Northville shut out Walled Lake Western by 40 points this year.

The Mustangs were led by an experienced trio of juniors: Nathan Kirmis, Scott Lloyd, and Jeff Zwiesler. Aided by Dwight VanTuyl and senior captain, Mark Ritter, the Northville runners finished the season with a 3 and 3 record, a one-point loss to Farmington Harrison was all that stood in the way of a winning season.

The women's cross country team fared equally well this year. Like the men's team they ended their season with a 3 and 3 record. Five senior runners will graduate this June. They are Jodi Clark, Erin Maloney, Lauren Nadeau, Urvi Mujumdar, and Laura Thomas. The team will miss their strong leadership, but looks forward to a fresh start next year.

Northville High School students have produced many pieces of art. Using different mediums, ranging from painting, to drawing, to ceramics, students explore the many facets of art. Student art may be found decorating the halls and display cases of our school. Some of the art pieces become as much a part of the school, as the walls themselves. The reader in front of the library has long been a symbol of our school. New murals such as the seal in the front hallway will also soon become trademarks of N.H.S. Students may enter their artwork in the Key competition, and the winners' works will go on to New York.

 Last night in my bedroom--Liz Rivard

TO THE CLASS OF 1994:

In the beginning we were armed and prepared,
Our nasty reputation had the administration scared.
"Fight! Fight!" -- we all ran down the hall,
but the eighth grade dance brought an end to it all.
The mighty shark float began our high school careers.
before too long, we'd quelled our Freshman fears.
Our need for a map on the way to math class wasn't aided by the non-refundable elevator pass.
The Persian Gulf War came as a big surprise when the scud missiles shocked our innocent eyes.
As Sophomore year started, we were not so dinky
but we still crossed the bridge from the big, yellow twinkie.
Dr. Johnson filled the principal position and saw the Beanstalk float go through demolition.
Weekend car washes made our fingers wrinkly and pop bottle collections made our parent's cars stinky.
We displayed our strength in the tug of war
when we muscled the Seniors onto the floor.
We drove ourselves into our Junior year and illegally we made parking spots appear.
The treacherous homework dragged us down,
but we learned how to party to lose the frown.
That Junior year sure gave us unrest,
as we took the American College Test.
Bill and Hillary took on the Presidency and booted the Republicans out of their residency.
The "Rocky" Homecoming float that didn't pack a punch earned far less enthusiasm than the food fight at lunch.
We cheered in the gym while watching basketball until we heard a big crash, "There's a hole in the wall!"
We all sold SI's for the magazine sale and put to the test our skills in retail.
Tempers were raging everyday after school:
the nails in our tires just weren't cool.
Senioritis more powerfully kicked in as we watched the Seniors graduat'n.

Senior year gave us all new fears,
applications and essays found us up to our ears.
We chugged into the season with a "Choo-choo" float,
our football team gave us reason to gloat.
Strutting down the hall with hats and pins, "To the Dome!"
but the sad, sad loss sent our crushed souls home.
Advanced Comp., Physics and Marketing Management, Humanities I with Brown, Hall, and Dent.
Teachers scrambled to get Mid-terms done:
before first semester ended, the second had begun.
With the football season glory still fresh in our mind,
we anticipated fun of a different kind.
Graduation, Prom and, of course, Spring Break-- amazing memories that no one can take.
From Legos, sandboxes, and Barbie dolls,
now we'll move in to dormitory halls.
Hold on to the pictures to keep visions clear when looking back on this final fourth year.
Graduation Ceremony -- our last time together.
Your best friend's smile that time cannot weather.
Within our flying caps lie our high school ties,
now comes the time for final good-byes.
If your eyes well up as you go on your way,
know that you still have the memories of today.

Ted Downs, Julie Romine, Brenda Newton, Sonya Gupta, Kerry Whelan, and Kristi Darkowski

The sophomore class kicked off the year with their successful Fall Car Wash under the leadership of President Andy Song, Vice President John McMahon, Treasurer Matt Minard, and Secretary Kelly Moser. Their next fundraiser, the Victorian festival, was a great deal of fun for everyone running a button-making booth, selling Victorian candy bags, and holding a prize raffle. At the end of September, sophomore class spirit really shined through Homecoming Week. They won second in the class competition and also overall in spirit week events. Their greatest achievement, however, was their first place victory in the parade beating the seniors with their sinking Titanic ship. They held many fund-raisers throughout the year including doughnut sales, flower sales, and candy sales. The sophomores continue to work hard as they prepare for their Senior Prom and Graduation.

Hey Eric Miller, use a fork next time.

The Sophomore president Andrew Song is always ready to help our class.

The busy builders breathe a sigh of relief; the freshman float is done.

47. TRAMPLE THE CHIEFS

The Freshman float builders roll out the final product.

Homecoming representatives from the Class of 1997: Andy Fee and Jenny McMullen.

1997

Freshmen

The Freshman class has a great group of representatives and leaders. At the beginning of the year, Matt Zielinski was elected class President. Andy Fee was elected Vice-President, while Dave Craig was elected Treasurer. Malasri Chaudery was elected Secretary.

Homecoming week was surely a surprise to all of us. Our float came in third place which was not bad for freshmen. We will just have to work harder for first place next year.

This year will be filled with many fundraisers which will be held primarily in the spring. The officers and representatives have planned car washes, flower sales, candy sales, and possibly a basketball tournament. All the money that we earn will be put towards dances and other events that the class chooses to have.

The class of 1997 has a lot of potential, ideas, and spirit. We as a class should participate as much as possible in money raising activities, which in the future will make costly events a lot easier for us. The class of 1997 will work together in reaching the high goals that we have set.

Student Congress Representatives: Tina Juntunen, Mike McNally, Dave Anderson, Julie Damico, Katie Kule, Katacia Williams.

Nicole Sultana and Katie Kulp cheer for the home team.

Northville High School

Officially

Organized

Officially organized as a P.T.S.A. in 1993, the former Parents Advisory of Northville High school, now represents over 200 parents, staff and students. The P.T.S.A. meets the third Wednesday of each month to discuss issues and events in support of the 1993-1994 goals: to increase communication between home and school; to support and improve school spirit and student participation; and to maintain and enhance programs at Northville High School.

The P.T.S.A. publishes the monthly Mustang Messenger, mailed to all high school families. It has representation from teachers, student council, athletics and music booster groups, and also legislative monitoring groups. In addition, the P.T.S.A. coordinated parent volunteers in the building, hosts parent education programs, and provides a staff appreciation luncheon each year.

Teachers' Pride

School's out for the day and the hallways are clear, but the rooms are not empty. Many teachers work on special activities benefiting the students, teachers, and the community. This year many teachers were recognized for their work. Mary Culik was chosen to go on a geological expedition. In addition she was named WDIV Teacher of the Year. Darrel Schumacher was chosen by MHSAA as Region IV Coach of the Year. Last spring Mrs. Nancy Brown was chosen as Creative Writing Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Maureen Gorshak gave demonstrations at a school board meeting. She was assisted by Wayne Saunders. Mr. Meteyer leads a conversation trip each year. Mr. Douglas Dent was acknowledged in the book, Taking Sides by John T. Rourke. All the people in Northville thank these and all our teachers for their hard work.

Mrs. Culik listens to a lecture on the Paleozoic Age.

Mrs. Brown was honored for her work with students.

Mr. Schumacher was chosen as Region IV Coach of the Year.

Mrs. Gorshak shows the school board what her students learn in H.S. computer classes.

Mr. Meteyer leads his conservation class on a trip every year.

Distinguished Administrator Retires

Mr. Ralph Redmond has been with the Northville School District since 1959. Prior to coming to Northville he attended Ohio State University where he played football. He later transferred to Hillsdale College where he was an art major. He graduated in May of 1959, and began teaching art at Amerman that fall. He later received a Master's Degree from Wayne State University. While at Amerman, he also coached J.V. football, track and cross-country at the high school. After transferring to the high school, he taught English and Journalism and continued coaching. He was also sponsor for both the yearbook and newspaper. In 1978 his cross-country team won a regional championship. That year he officially became our Assistant Principal while continuing his duties as Athletic Director. Prior to that he was the Activities Director, Athletic Director and acting Assistant Principal. Juggling these three jobs took up much of his time. So much, in fact, that his wife Daisy said that she only got to see him on weekends. In 1986 he became the full-time Assistant Principal in charge of Student Services. He continued for eight years and retires this year. He plans to spend more time with his wife and four daughters and work on his paintings. All of the students at Northville are sad to see Mr. Redmond leave and hope he has an enjoyable retirement.

Mr. Redmond always brings a cheery disposition to the workplace.

Mr. Redmond works at his desk.

Mr. Redmond and Chris Stewart share a hat during February, 1994.

Mr. Redmond and Ms. Wallace share lunch duty in the cafeteria.

Mr. Redmond attends a pep assembly with former principal, Mr. David Bolitho.

Mr. Redmond and Dr. Thomas Johnson joke as the 1994 school year comes to a close.

Mr. Redmond sits in the auditorium before he takes student leaders to O.C.C. leadership day.

The sun sets over the horizon as the class of '94's school year draws to a close. As they venture toward the setting sun, the opportunities for them will seem endless. Time will stretch forever, but yesterday was over too quickly, and tomorrow will be too late. Don't stretch your hand out timidly. Reach out and grab the opportunities now while you still have the chance to.....

.....Seize the day.
